ASKED PEDDLER'S LICENSE—
GOT MARRIED INSTEAD.
Chicago, Ill., June 7.—Philip Fish-mine told Judge Cooper how he was married without knowing it; he wanted the marriage dissolved. He said he inquired of a clerk in the county clerk's office for a peddler's license.
With him was a young woman, a friend. He was handed a slip of paper, he said, and taken with the girl to Justice Stacy's parlor. He told the court he thought he was signing to something on the permit when he and the girl said the customary "I do."
They tried to make the best of it, he said, but it was not a success during the year's trial.

MEXICANS RAID A RANCH NEAR ALPINE

Missing Customs Inspectors Are Found Safe and Sound.

Alpine, Tex., June 7.—A party of four Mexicans raided the Harding ranch near the line of this county and Pecos, during the absence of the family. No locks and keys are used in this section, and such an occurrence as this is almost unheard of, and it is supposed that these men are some of the army ruffians from either one side or the other, left over after the last peace deal in Mexico. Sheriff Barker, of Pecos county rounded up and captured a gang of men and, as the offense was committed in Brewster county, he brought them in his auto to Alpine and turned them over to Sheriff Walton. They are now in jail here. Among the articles lost by the Hardings were jewelry, clothing, etc.

Active preparations are in progress for the opening of the Southwestern summer normal here next Monday. El Paso is in our district, and a large attendance is confidently expected from that city. The faculty this year is considered especially strong.

Alpine Masons have elected the following officers: R. B. Slight, W. M.; H. W. Townsend, S. W.; G. W. Baines, Jr., J. W.; W. E. Caldwell, secretary; W. A. Weakley, sentinel.

The contract for the new $10,000 Masonic temple will be let next month. The lower floor will be occupied by R. B. Slight & Co., druggists.

The building has been fairly inaugurated. A number of substantial business houses are now under construction. The real estate market is active.

United States customs inspectors C. A. Windus and Harry Robinson, who had been missing for nearly two weeks, and for whom a detail of cavalry was sent out from Terlingua are safe. Collector Dove was telegraphed to at Eagle Pass and he fired that the men were safe, having scouted along the river as far as Presidio, and reported to the collector from there.

NO BIDS FOR ROAD; SALE IS POSTPONED

Dalhousie, Tex., June 7.—June 6 was the day set for the sale of the Elida, Ochiltree & Western Ry., under construction from Dalhousie to Ochiltree, Texas. Judge Hendricks, receiver, and representatives from several states were present, including interested parties from points on the contemplated line. The court house was crowded with contemplated bidders and spectators at the hour set by Judge Hendricks. No bids were offered for the road and the sale was postponed by Judge Hendricks until July 12.

The rolling stock was sold to W. R. Chauncy, attorney, in the interest of the Southern Iron company, original owners of the equipment.

CULIACAN FIGHT A STUBBORN ONE

Federal Colonel Refuses to Surrender; Precipitates Trouble.

Tucson, Ariz., June 7.—J. R. Plevin, of San Francisco, an eye witness to the battle of Culiacan, says the four days' battle was precipitated by the stubbornness of Col. Morales, of the federal garrison. Three thousand rebels demanded the surrender of 300 federalists. Governor Redo and Gen. Aguilar wanted to yield, but Morales refused.

The federalists were fortified in the cathedral, postoffice, federal building and church of Annunciation; Redo and Aguilar being in the postoffice. Fighting started May 29 at 10 p. m. and continued four days. June 1, a white flag was raised by Aguilar and the rebels entered the city. Morales kept up the fight and the battle became hand to hand.

Next day Morales offered to surrender if his own life were spared. The rebels agreed and the surrender followed. Then the city was looted from one end to the other. The residents were enraged at both sides and demanded the life of Morales. Redo and Aguilar were arrested, but later they were released.

DID FRIEND LET LOPEZ GET AWAY?

Reported at Douglas That Rebel Bandit Leader Is Not Dead.

Douglas, Ariz., June 7.—Many citizens of Agua Prieta are inclined to believe that the notorious Red Lopez is not dead but has made his escape from the clutches of the government troops. Friends who were very close to him state that he left Agua Prieta with Lieut. Anacleto Glon, one of his closest personal friends. In their belief Lopez is in hiding and will not return to this section for fear of getting his friends in trouble.

This rumor is given strength by a local interview with Mrs. Gatliff, of Agua Prieta, in which she alleges that she has certain information that Lopez entered El Paso Sunday, and is now in hiding there.

Several expeditions which have been sent out from Douglas have resulted in nothing as far as locating his body is concerned.

Save for his hat, serape, coat and vest, which were shown his mother at Cananea, there is no evidence of his death. It is believed here that Lopez gladly gave up these garments in exchange for others and that he made his way into the hills and to other scenes.

AMERICAN INSURRECTO

DISAPPEARS WITH HORSE

Yesterday afternoon a man was seen to unsaddle a large gray horse and take the saddle to a little store on Seventh street, where he left it, telling the boy there to keep it awhile. Soon after work, Pomeroy's stable notified the police that a large gray horse, rented by an American insurrecto, had not been returned. This gave the police a clue and at present a diligent search is being made for the man, who, it is said to have been convicted a short time ago on a similar charge.

CHINIPAS, CHIHUAHUA, IS UNDER

SEIGE; ACTIVITIES IN SONORA STATE

Guaymas, Sonora, Mexico, June 4.—(By Mail.)—Telegrams received from Alamos state that the town of Chinipas, Chihuahua, is still under siege, the people refusing to believe the reports of peace having been concluded.

It is said that a few days ago the besieging army started to withdraw, and the force of Chinipas, believing it a trick to draw them out, followed cautiously, firing upon the Maderistas, whereupon the siege was renewed, and reinforcements have been sent out from Alamos to assist in taking the place by storm. As it is said that dynamite was included in the supplies sent out, it is believed that the Maderistas measures will be used in subjugating the stubborn defenders of the town, and a great slaughter may result.

Seige of Alamos.

Alamos, Sonora, Mexico, June 4.—(By Mail.)—About the 20th of May a large force under Benjamin Hill, advancing from the north, captured Navajoa and began preparations for a march upon Alamos. Then telegrams came announcing that peace had been agreed upon and hostilities stopped all over the country, and confirming this, Sr. Bonilla, provisional governor of Sonora, passed through Navajoa and notified Hill that the war was over, and asked him to hold his position where he was.

Disregarding this, Hill started for Alamos May 23, with a force about 1000 men. The general belief was that the advance was being made not through lack of confidence in the telegrams announcing peace, but with the purpose of seeking the town. A committee of public safety was quickly organized, and a delegation of leading citizens were sent out to try to dissuade Hill from his purpose.

These met with little encouragement, however, and Hill continued his march to Minas Nuevas, where he arrived on the morning of the 25th and occupied that place without opposition, there being no garrison there. When a telephone message announced the arrival of the revolutionists at Minas Nuevas, six miles east of Alamos, a call to arms was sounded, and the sol-

TORREON PLANT IS EMPLOYING 800 MEN

Guayule Rubber Concern Resumes Operations in Mexican City.

Torreon, Mex., June 7.—The Continental-Mexican Rubber company, after a temporary shutdown extending over a fortnight, has resumed operations. Owing to the suspension of traffic, due to the burning of railroad bridges, the company was unable to procure guayule from its haciendas and, being short of raw material, it was necessary to suspend operations until such time as shipments could be resumed.

was about to surrender, and it is well known that the place has been rather short of supplies for a long time, but they have held out, and even now that peace has been concluded for over two weeks, it is still holding out.

It is said that the revolutionists have notified the defenders of the town that the war was over and peace established, but they refuse to believe it, and think it a trick on the part of the besieging army to deceive them into surrendering, and with the fate of the citizens of Guaymas before them, it is no wonder that they are over cautious. Just how this state of affairs is to be overcome, and the siege ended no one seems to know, and it seems likely that it will be only when the town is actually starved into submission, and that may be weeks, or even months.

A very serious phase of the present situation appears to have been very generally overlooked, and that is the fact that a great majority of the small farmers, upon whom the country depends for its supply of corn and beans, which is to say the food supply of the masses, have taken up arms and deserted their farms. Unless these men return to their lands very soon, the shortage in crops will amount to famine, and there will be great suffering and hardship all over the country. Even in years of full crops the country does not produce a sufficient amount of grain, and every year large quantities of corn and wheat have to be imported from the United States. It seems likely that not more than one-half the usual acreage will be planted this year, and if upon that there should be a shortage of rain the country will have to have assistance.
